Supplier of ultra-large capacity folding containers for tunnels

Overview

What are tunnel containers?

An innovative idea that's being taken up by some of our self-storage clients is the use of tunnel containers. Tunnel shipping containers have doors at either end and come in 20ft and 40ft lengths. For example, if someone wants to rent a 20ft container and you've only got a 40ft container you could lose a valuable client. Our solution!.

Who are universal containers?

Universal Containers take pride in continually pushing the boundaries in product development within the shipping container industry. These 2 large 32x10ft cabins were built for a British transport company. They requested a large space to act as a welfare facility for drivers and staff in the peak district.

Do tunnel shipping containers have dual entry points?

Our tunnel shipping containers come with dual entry points, streamlining your loading and unloading. Available in an array of sizes and specifications.

What can Universal containers do for a garden centre?

Universal Containers embarked on an exciting project to enhance a garden centre's retail experience by supplying and customising two shipping container cabins. The goal was to seamlessly link these cabins on-site and transform them into a vibrant and functional gift shop. A restaurant had been operating successfully for several years.
